

ROOF RUNOFF STRUCTURE

Size of structure will affect the detail needed in the documentation.

Survey notes will include adequate information to establish the ground surface elevations for drainage and shall include a sketch outlining drainage pattern, storage pond size, and location if applicable.

Design data may include pond size, storage volume if applicable, size of gutter, and downspout locations.

Compliance checking can be observation of operations or discussion with cooperator.

No As-Built plans are required.